My objective in my career is to always do what I can to accomplish tasks and duties related to my responsibilities. I want to start where I need to but ultimately move up the chain. I understand that every position within a company is important and team efforts must always be made to ensure quality service. My ultimate goal is to finish school and ensure that my children have many opportunities to grow and to experience as much as possible. As a single mother, ensuring that my family is taken care of is my first priority always. It is my hope that whatever position I am able to take will strengthen my abilities and help me to eventually obtain my Master's Degree in Nursing.

Additional Information

Qualifications

I am currently a Certified Nurse's Assistant and a licensed EMT. I am currently enrolled in both the Nursing and the Paramedic programs at Gateway Technical College. In my employment history I have worked in many customer service positions. I have waited tables, worked in retail, and worked in the health care setting. I know what needs to get done and do my best to make sure it gets completed. I have been working directly with people since I entered the work field at the age of 14. I know good customer service and I recognize bad service when I see or hear it. I always try to be cheerful and helpful wherever possible. I have also worked with computers, animals, and heavy machinery in the past. I am currently a student and single mother, so I know how to keep things running.
