

Paul C. Oh

9432 Potter Road
Des Plaines, IL 60016

Cell Phone: (847) 454-6700
Email: NursePaulOh@gmail.com

Objective:

Advocate and patient-focused registered nurse looking to expand nursing and medical skillset in a growing and expanding medical field. Bringing extensive knowledge skill sets from the geriatric and pediatric population, I am highly organized and effective in time management with experience in a supervisory role. Fully committed in following protocol and abiding to regulations that is expected of me for safe and effective patient care.

Professional Experience

Rush University Medical Center, Chicago, IL

Current General Medicine Registered Nurse II – [Acute Care Hospital]

April 2021- Current

- Managed daily patient living activities, lab orders requests, and medication orders at a renown and recognized acute care facility for patients ranging from post-operative visits to treatments for illnesses, injuries, and life threatening conditions (e.g., COPD, CHF, ESRD, stroke, and cancer)
- Registered nurse level 2 position equipped with clinical skill and critical thinking knowledge to perform exceptional care to acutely ill patients based off multiple disease processes alongside multiple co-morbidities.
- Coordinated with healthcare teams including physicians, nurse practitioners, and therapy specialists in order to meet individual care needs on a daily basis • Trained and precepted Registered Nurses on performing job duties relating to tracheostomy, intravenous, and wound care based off of physician's orders and according to hospital protocol • Performed treatments including catheter care, wound care and dressing changes, intravenous access and care, nebulizers and breathing treatment, hospice and palliative care.

Amita Health Saint Mary's and Elizabeth Medical Center, Chicago, IL

Medical Surgical Registered Nurse – [Acute Care Hospital]

June 2020- April 2021

- Providing direct patient care and assessments to patients with multiple comorbidities and acute life threatening conditions that have and have not resolved (e.g., AKI, UTI, COPD, Pneumonia, PE, Cancer, Stroke, etc.) And preparing patients before and after surgery.
- Appropriate IV care and insertion and managing multiple IV infusions or drips simultaneously.
- Providing acute care in a hospital setting such as blood transfusions, NG-tube care and insertion, Tracheostomy care, oral and trach suctioning, large wound dressings, Heparin drips, TPN and Fats, foley catheters and more.
- Coordinating care with various health care teams and departments throughout the hospital such as Interventional radiology, GI, pharmacy, Dialysis, pre-op surgery, PACU, ED, General surgery, and coordinating care and informing consults with specialized physicians.

RCM Healthcare Agency Services, Chicago, IL

Registered Nurse – [Community Healthcare]

April 2018 – Current

- Assessed student's health care needs based on initial patient screening and doctor's recommendations
- Served as an advocate for student's diagnosed with multiple disease processes (e.g. seizures, asthma, uncontrolled diabetics, and etc.) focused on personalized patient care
- Represented as a mandated reporter to the Department of Children and Family Services and Child Protective Services to communicate student's medical concerns and needs
- Monitored patient conditions to consult with physicians and on-site health care team members (psychologists, occupational therapist, and physical therapist) in order to plan and implement long-term health care plans

Education

Bachelor of Science in Nursing

Resurrection University, Chicago Illinois

Certifications and Licenses

- American Heart Association Advanced Cardiovascular Life Support (ACLS) Certification
Expiration Date: 11/2022 Ecard Code: 206506815770
- American Heart Association Basic Life Support (CPR and AED) Certification
Expiration Date: 11/2021 Ecard Code: 195508290889
- Registered Professional Nurse (RN) Illinois
Expiration Date: 05/2022 License # 041464031

