A highly motivated nurse striving to bring my leadership, team ethic and knowledge to a new team. I will bring energy and my skills to your team with hopes of learning from them as well to expand my own knowledge. While working the night shift in a small hospital, it has given me the chance to rely on my own knowledge and instincts to execute important decisions and interventions in the case of an emergency. I believe this makes me a strong candidate as working night shift we do not have doctors in house and responsibility is often left to our discretion. I am passionate about both labor and delivery as well as mother/baby care and would love the opportunity to work with your community.
