Work Experience

Registered Nurse

Monticello Nursing and Rehabilitation Center

June 2020 to March 2021

This was my first job as a registered nurse since graduating with my associate degree in May of 2020. My job in this nursing home as similar to my previous job, the main difference was that I was passing medications in this setting on top of performing treatments and doing assessments. I believe that passing medications has helped enhance my knowledge in pharmacology, as well give me more hands on with giving medications to multiple people. I had to be on top of my skills in order to keep each resident separate while also having a limited amount of time to pass them during the day. I also had to learn a different charting system, which involved the majority of it being on the computer. It was easy for me to learn the system as I consider myself to be technologically literate.

Liscensed Practical Nurse

Luther Manor Nursing Home

October 2019 to June 2020

This was my first job as a nurse since graduating with my LPN in May of 2019. My job as a nurse in a nursing home was to pass medications, provide treatments, assess patients who have significant illnesses, communicate with physicians and other nurses, take and ask for orders from physicians, provide my skills and knowledge to residents with acute illnesses to prevent further complications, perform skin assessments, and give my best in everything that comes up that may not have been expected.

Certified Nursing Assistant

MercyOne - Dubuque, IA

October 2018 to January 2019

My job as a CNA in the hospital involved providing cares to patients with their dressing, eating, bathing, toileting, oral care, and taking their vitals. This was a bit different than the nursing home because I also took patients' blood sugars and took them to and from different areas within the hospital.

Cashier

Theisen's

July 2018 to October 2018

I worked part-time as a cashier during the summer before I started the nursing program at NICC. I have never worked retail so this new experience gives me the opportunity to learn and experience new encounters with others in the work force, as well as interacting with customers.
