I am currently an LPN who works in a long term care setting. I have been in this setting for over 3 years. I was originally in a direct care setting working as a developmental assistant taking care of residents with intellectual disabilities. I was responsible for daily cares for residents as well as teaching them functional tasks and practical life skills depending on the residents level of functionality. I have been an LPN for 2 year and specialize in caring for residents that are vent dependent, and residents who are rehabilitating from brain injuries. I find this line of work very interesting and rewarding, especially the rehabilitation aspect because I am able to see real and tangible progress towards the ultimate goal of independent living after a brain injury. I recently graduated Hawkeye with my RN in May of 2017.
