On this 36 bed step down critical care unit patients require closer in depth monitoring-respiratory, cardiac-telemetry, continuous pulse oximetry monitoring in each patient room. An extensive skill set is quickly developed and used to manage 1:4 patient ratios.

Observation and assessment are one of the most important skills that are quickly sharpened on this unit.

By closely observing patients, I am able to react/report changes in the pt status to the MD, PA, or NP. Identifying signs and symptoms of critical conditions such as hypotension, sepsis, CO2 retention, adverse reactions related to sedatives. Identify cardiac emergencies, such as SVT, V Fib or bradycardia and respond appropriately. Also, assess and monitor thermal regulation, identifying subtle changes like increase in work of breathing using accessory muscles, that leads to acidotic changes that would lead to respiratory interventions like administering oxygen through non rebreather mask, high flow nasal cannula, or BIPAP. In addition to the aforementioned skills I also am responsible for the administration of high-risk medications such as TPN, Lipids, and the following drips heparin, insulin, dopamine, amiodarone, and PCA pumps.

Intake Nurse, perform in-depth triage prior to accepting inmates into the facility. The triage covers current and past medical health history. In addition to obtaining the patient's medical history, we thoroughly screen for mental health and substance abuse history. The intake nurse is responsible for all patients being housed in the intake department prior to being assigned a housing unit. While under our care we are responsible for managing the care required for each inmate's health conditions. We have mandatory detox checks, on any inmate who tests positive for narcotics. Medication administration, baseline vitals assessment, glucose testing, as well as TB planting is all performed in the intake department by the LPN.
