- I'm looking to be part of the Patient Care Team and act as the liaison between the provider and the patient; to meet the medical needs of the patient. I can be entrusted to: assist the physician or other provider in delivering compassion to patients in the home and to exhibit professionalism and exercise sound clinical judgment when providing assistance to patients; and act as an advocate for both the patient and the provider in order to enhance the patient experience.

- I hold myself to a deeper level of commitment, and what is asked of me. I freely give because I believe in my mission to make a difference in everything that I do.

- Utilizes computer system (as needed) for information, data analysis, and to complete tasks

- Maintains customer's rights; confidentiality, privacy, safety, security, and decision making

- Attends departmental meetings and other in-services and training sessions (relative to job)

- Performs basic tasks; in a timely manner with minimum guidance and supervision

- Demonstrates willingness to work toward goals and objectives; is committed to the whole process •

More than 20 years experience and I still love this profession. It feels like I don't work a day in my life. Just paying it forward and helping out anyway I can. I go above and beyond what is expected

- Very positive and look forward to seeing my patients

- I'm dedicated to making a difference in the lives of my patients and their families, and I offer individuals the opportunity to feel important. I strive to provide positive contributions in our community. I'm dedicated to making a difference.

Work Experience

RN Staff Nurse

Aztec Healthcare - Farmington, NM

January 2021 to Present

Night shift Rn for a skilled nursing facility and a long term care facility. I work with both types of patients. Utilizing my time management and nursing experience in order to provide the best care for my patients and the company that I work for. I hold myself to a high level of care and compassion for me and my co workers. Together, we can provide the best care for the residents and the family. Team work is the key for success. Conflict resolution for staff and patients is very important at times of stress and misunderstandings. I'm able to get along with difficult patients and coworkers in a nonjudgmental way and I have the most compassion for individuals
