Dear Hiring Administrator:

Please accept the attached resume as my expressed interest in joining your nursing team. I am certain that my qualifications make me a strong candidate to achieve your patient care goals, including:

- A patient-centered philosophy rooted in the nursing process with attention to assessment, planning and implementation of the highest quality patient care and safety.

- Proven ability to establish a positive, empathetic rapport with patients and family members to facilitate effective communication and education.

- Professional motivation and the capacity to work productively with physicians, nurses, technicians and others in a team effort; a conscientious, dedicated team player.

Throughout my positions as a staff nurse and agency nurse across med surg, LTAC, school nursing, telemetry and internal medicine, I have developed proficiency in the areas of total patient care, patient teaching and problem solving. I am extremely dedicated to patients under my care, resulting in an aptitude for ensuring all patient needs are met from intake through discharge. You will find I offer a strong passion for quality and continuity of care to achieve optimal outcomes for patients, which I would like to contribute to your nursing team.

As a dedicated healthcare professional with a positive attitude toward new challenges, I have every confidence that I can uphold the highest quality of care for your patients. Realizing that it is not always easy to evaluate a person from such a brief summary, I would appreciate the opportunity to interview with you at your convenience. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Kind regards,

Anise C. London
